MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

It was 1984. That was the year that my family and I first crossed the threshold of South Shore Conservatory and what a wonderful run it has been. Piano and percussion, The Joy of Music and the flute. The magic of an arts-based pre-school. Voice lessons. The guitar. Recitals. Competitions. The mother and daughter Suzuki “team.” Four children...all SSC “alumni.” Now, it is our grandchildren who walk these halls weekly. Drama. Music Together. And one aging lawyer who has returned to his own voice study.

Today, I have the privilege of serving as Chairman of SSC’s Board of Trustees. Ours is an active, engaged board and we have the pleasure of working with an extraordinary management, faculty and staff. We have first-class facilities and our offerings are second to none in breadth and depth. And don’t be misled by the “Conservatory” in our name; that’s a statement of quality, not exclusivity. Ours is a community school for the arts and we are open and accessible to everyone.

As trustees, we have dedicated ourselves to the health of SSC. To ensure that South Shore Conservatory remains true to its mission and has the financial foundation necessary to offer access to all those who seek what we alone offer in our region. Last year was a strong one for SSC and our growth was unprecedented. With that growth came a record call for financial aid. While we gave out more student support than at any time in the past, we could not meet the demonstrated need and we must prepare to do even more, as our numbers grow. Our faculty and our facilities are top flight; we aim to keep them that way. Doing so is part of the exceptional experience that we promise to deliver.

Being true to our mission of building community through the arts requires resources and those resources come in many forms. So, yes, our board devotes itself to fundraising and we are profoundly grateful to all of you who include SSC in your personal philanthropy. Your support allows us to expand our programs, to extend our reach and to say “yes” to all those who want to join the SSC community. Thank you.

If you want to learn more about our work, just let us know. We have a great story to tell and we love telling it.

Thank you for being part of the SSC family. The doors at South Shore Conservatory are wide open and what’s inside is truly transformational. Please come in.

Michael Puzo
Chairman

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Here at South Shore Conservatory, we are a community of learners, performers, teachers, friends and families brought together by the power of music and the arts. During this past year nearly 3,000 students and hundreds of audience members were enriched and transformed by the gifted men and women of our faculty in classrooms, studios, on stages and in outreach settings.

In our efforts to create a warm and welcoming environment, we have worked hard to ensure that everyone who engages with South Shore Conservatory has an exceptional experience. This work has resulted in unprecedented growth of more than 40% in private lessons over the past three years. In addition, we have increased visibility, excitement and enrollment for our fantastic Jazz, Rock and Pop offerings. This year, building on the success of Open Mic Nights and Monster Jams, we added two Rock Camps, Sound Check weekly performance workshops, and our first ever Jazz/Rock/Pop Spotlight Festival, featuring 20 individual and group performances in the Jane Carr Amphitheatre.

Creating community through the arts begins at our two beautiful campuses but it also draws us out into the larger South Shore community. Providing true access to the arts is core to our mission and this year we have expanded the ways in which we do that. We have doubled our scholarship allocation over the past 5 years and this year more than 300 deserving young people were able to fulfill their creative passion because of our increased funding.

We have developed strong partnerships with public schools and social service agencies to help us broaden our reach. This year we are working with Hull Public Schools on a program that links music education with literacy and language development for children ages 4-6. An Artists-in-Residency program will bring SSC musicians into all grade levels of the Randolph Public Schools for performances, demonstrations, and master classes. In addition, we are providing creative arts therapies for 12 Randolph Public Schools including the May Center for Brain Trauma and Plymouth, Pembroke, Duxbury, Scituate and Bourne Public Schools. More than 400 individuals ranging in age from 3 to 104 now participate in creative arts therapies on our campuses and in the community.

For the many teenagers who study at SSC, making music and sharing it with others is a driving force in their lives. This year SSC Crew was formed by Anne Smith and Adrienne Perletta to further engage students in our community. This group of students volunteered their time to help at events, including Chase Away the Winter Blues, Duxbury Music Festival and the Spotlight Festival, as well as holding their own event to raise awareness of SSC among their peers. Other students volunteered on a weekly basis with Community Voices, acting as accompanist, mentors and aides. It is thrilling to see these young people giving of their talent and their spirit in the service of others.

We know there is a unique power in the arts that can transform lives. It is that which brings tears to our eyes when we see a child on stage for their first recital or thrill to the beauty of a performance by a faculty string quartet, or share in the joy of Community Voices singers and their families. We thrive because of the engagement of so many: donors, volunteers, partners, teachers, students, staff, friends and parents. We truly are a Creative Community! Thank you for all you do to make South Shore Conservatory the strong and thriving organization that it is. With your help we will continue to look forward, responsive to the cultural and financial changes in the world, recognizing and attracting talent, providing innovative programming and ensuring that the arts thrive on the South Shore.
