Music is a moral law. It gives a soul to the universe, wings to the mind, flight to the imagination, a charm to sadness, and life to everything.” Long attributed to Plato, some scholars ascribe these words instead to Aristotle. Others favor a different philosopher. At South Shore Conservatory, that is not our concern; rather, we take confidence from these words because we know them to be true.

It is my privilege to serve as Chairman of SSC’s Board of Trustees. Recognized as one of the nation’s foremost community schools of the arts, SSC delivers a depth and breadth of programs that are unrivaled on the South Shore. We serve young and old and everyone in between, both within our walls and without. We work in classrooms and concert halls, in public and private schools, in community centers and under the stars. We teach students committed to careers in music and the arts and those many more who study and perform purely for the love of it.

As trustees, we are charged with the stewardship of SSC and to building its financial base, so as to ensure its ongoing vitality. Ours is an active, engaged board, aided in our work by an extraordinary management, faculty and staff. As a non-profit, public charity, deeply committed to delivering real access to our programs, SSC relies on your generosity and that of an entire community.

So, whether the quoted words are those of Plato, Aristotle or another wise observer, music and the arts do give wings to the mind, flight to the imagination and life to everything. And the entire SSC community stands as proof of that proposition.

Michael J. Puzo
Chairman, Board of Trustees

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I looked out at the audience of 150 talented faculty, exceptional staff and dedicated Trustees at the All School meeting in September, I was struck by how much we have accomplished in the past seven years. The growth of our programs, especially private instruction, has exceeded all of our expectations, and our largest population continues to be early childhood – building a strong base for the future.

The vibrancy of our community springs from our shared vision, the quality of our programs and the excellence of our people. With the continued growth in programs and services has come the need to create strategies and action around sustainability. Issues of capacity, resources both human and capital, visibility and managed growth are the challenges for the near future. We will finalize our next strategic plan this year, addressing these areas.

As we focus on raising working capital to sustain the Conservatory for years to come, we also need to heighten our visibility within the broader community. We have done an excellent job building the reputation and awareness of our programs for those who seek our services, but we must raise our profile as the preeminent arts and cultural organization on the South Shore by engaging community, civic and business leaders throughout the region.

The expansion of Outreach into Brockton and Hull, as well as the growth of our Creative Arts Therapies programs, has helped to ensure that the excellent music and arts education that SSC offers is truly accessible to everyone within our broader community. As we develop a reputation for these services and look to raise funds for their sustainability, it is important that we set a plan for managed growth, setting priorities for programming and partnering.

Our people are at the core of what we do and why we succeed. With feedback from our first faculty survey, we will continue to support them through increased professional development, team building, recognition and multi-layered leadership opportunities in order to sustain the shared feeling of pride and ownership.

I am proud of what we have accomplished and excited by the opportunities ahead. I look forward to an exciting and successful 2014.

ANNUAL REPORT
FISCAL YEAR 2013

South Shore Conservatory is a non-profit organization that depends on charitable contributions for a significant portion of its income. We are grateful to the many people and organizations who contributed so generously to our school’s programs, scholarships and events during Fiscal Year 2013 (September 1, 2012-August 31, 2013). Donors are recognized for cumulative giving across all categories of donations.

In addition to the donors listed on the following pages, the Conservatory recognizes with great appreciation the hundreds of volunteers who have contributed their time, energy and expertise to make our events and programs successful and memorable. Finally, we thank our students, parents and audiences for their participation, attendance, encouragement and support of South Shore Conservatory.
